

COLLEGE OF VETERINARY MEDICINE WESTERN UNIVERSITY OF HEALTH SCIENCES

Western University of Health Sciences is an independent, accredited, non-profit university incorporated in the state of California, dedicated to educating compassionate and scientifically competent health professionals who value diversity and a humanistic approach to patient care. The university, located in the San Gabriel Valley of Southern California, about 30 miles east of Los Angeles, grants post baccalaureate professional degrees in five colleges: the Colleges of Allied Health Professions, Graduate Nursing, Osteopathic Medicine, Pharmacy, and Veterinary Medicine. The College of Veterinary Medicine (CVM) has been approved for the first steps of the accreditation process and admitted its charter class Fall 2003.

CURRICULUM:

The first two years of the four-year curriculum provide education in basic and clinical veterinary science using a small-group, problem-based learning format, a Veterinary Issues seminar course, a Molecular Biology seminar course, and a Clinical Skills. These courses rely on learning environments such as the Companion Animal Wellness Clinic, PsychoMotor Proficiency facility, Anatomy and Surgery Center, California State Polytechnic University-Pomona, and off-campus ambulatory programs. Years three and four are comprised of clinical rotations at participating veterinary practices and biomedical learning environments.

ADMISSIONS PROCESS:

Applicants may:

- 1) submit a primary application through VMCAS in addition to a supplemental application to Western University-CVM (est. $50), or
- 2) submit a single comprehensive application directly to Western University-CVM (est. $75).

VMCAS applications are available at www.aavmc.org or by calling 1-877-862-2740. All required application pieces not collected by VMCAS must be submitted with the supplemental application forms to Western University-CVM no later than November 1.
