

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION IN ACADEMIC VETERINARY MEDICAL EDUCATION

The American Association of Veterinary Medical Colleges affirms the principle of inclusive excellence in veterinary medical education. The Association is committed to advocating for policies and practices that serve to recruit and retain a diverse professional student, faculty, and staff population, which sustain inclusive institutional climates for all members of the community, and curricula that produce culturally aware veterinarians. The Association believes that through these actions, the health and wellbeing of animals and humans will be best served.
